Career services available to exchange students at Stern

• Career Resource Center - information warehouse of guides/directories/magazines and newspapers for professional development.

• Career Counseling - access to making an appointment with the international career counselor to create a personal development plan.

• International Exchange Website - on-line access to cover letter examples, interviewing guides, and career resources.

• Career Fair - held Fall and Spring semester; an opportunity to meet some employers who may be interested in hiring exchange students.

The Office of Career Development (OCD), a department at the Stern School of Business, provides limited career assistance to exchange students. Services include career advisement appointments and access to the Career Resource Center which houses corporate research information, publications, and the ability to view off-campus job postings. As an exchange student at Stern for one semester, you will also have access to attend the MBA career fair in the fall or spring semester.

Career services that are unavailable to exchange students at Stern

• Recruiting is not open to exchange program students. On-campus interviews are limited to Stern students enrolled in the full-time 2 year program who have completed the NYU Stern required Career Development Program curriculum.

• Exchange students do not have access to on-campus corporate presentations during the Fall and Spring semester.

• Exchange students do not have access to the alumni contact system and corporate contact database.

• Exchange students do not have access to interview facilities or teleconference equipment on-site at Stern. If students make connections regarding job prospects, they will need to negotiate with the company directly and be interviewed at their corporate office.

• Exchange students do not have access to the NYU Wasserman Center for Career Development.

We encourage exchange students to keep in touch regularly with their home school to obtain career advice and related professional development support.

Working in the US on a J-1 visa
Exchange students with a J-1 student visa can apply for academic training after the term has ended. J-1 Academic Training is employment that is critical or integral to a J-1 student's academic program at NYU. To understand the criteria, policies and procedures for J-1 Academic Training, please visit the NYU Office for International Students and Scholars (OISS) website http://www.nyu.edu/oiss/legal/employment/j1training.html.

Important: I have read and understand the services offered to exchange students at the NYU Stern School of Business.
