WHY STUDY ABROAD?

One of the greatest opportunities you’ll have as an undergraduate is the chance to study abroad—for a semester, summer or through our integrated program, the World Studies Track. Today, nearly 1 out of every 2 Stern students spend at least one semester abroad—here’s why they think it’s an experience you can’t afford to miss:

GRETCHEN JOHNSON

Name: Paris, France

Program Location

“Get out of your comfort zone! As young business leaders, we need to be able to adapt to new situations, and study abroad definitely tested my ability to thrive in an entirely new environment.”

CHRIS CHU

Name: Shanghai, China

Program Location

“Three words: Best Semester Ever.”

GRACE LUI

Name: Sydney, Australia and Florence, Italy

Program Location

“Study abroad made me a better me.”
ERICA SWALLOW
Shanghai, China

“Living and studying in Shanghai was like living a dream. I had to pinch myself at times when I found myself walking along the Bund, ordering lunch in Mandarin or hanging out with friends at the local noodle shop! I can’t imagine having a complete college experience without spending a semester abroad!”

SANTOSH SATEESH
Florence, Italy

“Business will no longer be limited to our country’s borders. Why should our own education be?”

JILL KREPS
Madrid, Spain

“My study abroad experience in Madrid was amazing. Where better to learn Spanish humanities than in Spain itself? Plus, enjoying the slower Spanish lifestyle was a breath of fresh air.”
I chose to study abroad through IBEX because I wanted to be completely immersed in another culture. My studies and travels around Spain were absolutely amazing but the highlight of my semester was my four-day adventure in Morocco through the Morocco Exchange, a program designed to help Americans better understand Islamic culture. After a 15 hour bus ride and a ferry past Gibraltar, I found myself in Africa and in the living room of my host family in Rabat, Morocco’s capital. The family knew English well, so we talked about everything—from the importance of religion in their daily lives to... my own mother’s love of sewing. Upon mentioning sewing, the family organized an excursion to the local fabric market. I donned traditional clothing and joined the family in bartering and shopping for local goods. I never met such kind, generous people—they really made me feel like a part of their family. Above all else, these types of experiences—engaging with locals in their natural surroundings—are what made my time abroad so incredible.”

“I like to challenge myself and knew moving to Shanghai for four months would be a real adventure. I also knew that, like moving to New York City from rural North Carolina, I’d grow from the experience. So, I gave it a shot. Upon arriving at NYU in Shanghai, my friends and I explored everything—from the exotic Pandas in nearby Chengdu to getting haircuts at the local barbershop. I was also able to learn some basic Mandarin and the first time I got into a cab and directed the driver home in his language was awesome! Being in situations I didn’t necessarily feel comfortable in was exactly what I wanted from study abroad and exactly what NYU in Shanghai gave me. I plan to do business in Shanghai one day, and by understanding the culture and knowing a basic level of the language, I will be well prepared and confident. There is no question that spending a semester in Shanghai was one of the best decisions of my life (so far).”
