Visiting Scholars Program for PhD Students

Each year, the Stern School of Business selects outstanding doctoral students from other distinguished universities who wish to visit Stern for one or two semesters as Visiting Scholars.

The Doctoral Program
The Stern School offers doctoral studies in the following areas:

- Accounting
- Information Systems
- Organizational Behavior/Theory
- Economics
- Marketing
- Statistics
- Finance
- Operations Management
- Strategy

For further information on the research taking place and courses being offered in each area, please see the related links on our Web site at www.stern.nyu.edu/phd.

Who May Apply
The Visiting Scholars Program for Ph.D. students is intended to have current Ph.D. students who are sufficiently proficient in their disciplines visit Stern to engage in scholarly interaction. Applicants must be doctoral students who are near the end of their required coursework or in the dissertation phase. Any graduate degrees or extensive work experience is favorable.

Cost
Visiting Scholar Ph.D. students are charged a $5000 fee per semester for the 2005-2006 academic year. In addition, in order for NYU to provide a visa, they must certify that they have health insurance and adequate financial support for the duration of their stay. Financial support can be from external sources, such as the student’s home university or government, or from personal or family savings.

Visiting Scholar Ph.D. students are provided with library and data access, the opportunity to sit in on advanced classes with the instructors’ permission, and shared desk and computer space, if available. Students will also benefit from participation in a wide range of seminars and from interaction with a large group of fellow doctoral students. Visiting students are not provided with housing or housing services.

Effective 9/1/04 any newly appointed scholar must pay a $100 fee to the Department of Homeland Security before a J-1 visa may be issued or a change to such status granted. A J-1 exchange visitor will be required to pay only one fee for the duration of the program.

Application Procedure
Applicants should apply at least 5 months prior to their intended visit. To apply, please email phd@stern.nyu.edu and request a Visiting Scholar application. Please provide your full mailing address or current fax number.

Applicants must send us the following additional information on a separate page with their application:
- Home faculty advisor name, email address and phone number
- Current resume
- Brief statement describing research proposal and reasons for visit
- Copy of your doctoral program transcript
- Copy of your passport
- Once accepted, students will be advised on the J-1 visa process

This program, its requirements and procedures are subject to change without notice. Thank you for your interest.
