Welcome to the NYU Stern School of Business Undergraduate College! We are thrilled that you have chosen to become a part of the NYU and Stern communities. We promise that your time at Stern will be mind-expanding, challenging, team-oriented and full of excitement.

To introduce you to many facets of the School, we have developed this guide to give you more information on degree requirements, Stern’s Office of Student Advising and Services, course registration, computer facilities and services, career services, student clubs and activities, and a wealth of contact information for a variety of NYU offices. In addition, other good sources of information include the Undergraduate Bulletin, the Guide to Advising and Student Services, SterNotes (the college’s newsletter), the Undergraduate web site (www.stern.nyu.edu/undergraduate), and the Student Guide to NYU. In addition, there are numerous individuals throughout the NYU offices that are eager to help you throughout your NYU career.

We wish you a tremendous amount of luck and encourage you to take advantage of all that NYU and Stern have to offer!

The Enrollment Process
Your first contact at NYU is a familiar one, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, 22 Washington Square North, New York, New York 10011-9191, Telephone: (212) 998-4500.

To be enrolled, an admitted candidate must do the following:

1. Accept the University’s offer of admission and pay the required non-refundable tuition deposit.
2. Submit any missing credentials to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions (e.g. final official transcripts, test scores, and, if requested, course descriptions and proof of grade).
3. File a medical report, including proof of immunization against measles, mumps, and rubella.
4. Attend Orientation Phase One or view online tutorial to enroll in your first semester courses.
5. Pay tuition and/or housing fees by the stipulated deadlines.

Bachelor of Science Degree Program
- Consists of 128 points.
- You must take both business-oriented and liberal-arts courses throughout your four years at Stern.

Stern Majors and Concentrations
Choosing a major: You should consult with an Academic Adviser in the Office of Undergraduate Advising & Student Services to discuss major requirements and to officially declare a major. Majors should be declared by the end of the sophomore year. Remember to plan carefully in advance with an Adviser in order to ensure that you have sufficient space and time to complete the major. On the next page are the majors and concentrations offered by The Undergraduate College.
Minors in the College of Arts and Sciences

Students who wish to minor in the College of Arts and Science should discuss this with their Academic Adviser and also with an Adviser in the department in which they wish to minor.

SPEAKING FREELY

Speaking Freely offers free, non-credit language classes open to all undergraduates. The 90-minute classes meet once a week for 10 weeks at various locations on campus. Get a taste of a new language and culture without leaving home! Each week, you’ll learn to communicate on a different topic, or enjoy a related activity—a movie, a concert, a neighborhood visit—as part of a small informal language group. No books are required. It’s all free—and easy. Meet new people and have fun! It’s the perfect way to try out a language and culture before you study or visit. The languages that have been offered include Arabic, Cantonese, Czech, French, German, Hebrew, Hindi, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Mandarin, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, and Swahili. Go to www.nyu.edu/pages/speaking.freely/ for more information.

Advanced Standing

First-Year Students:
Credit may be awarded for satisfactory work completed at another regionally accredited college or university, through the Advanced Placement Program (AP), the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), or through the facilities of the University of Maryland while in the armed forces.

In granting advanced standing, the following are considered:
• content, complexity, and grading standards of courses,
• individual grades and grade averages attained,
• suitability of courses for the program of study at Stern,
• and degree of preparation that completed courses provide for more advanced study at Stern.

Please note, for some courses, a proficiency exam is required when applying credits from another university.

Transfer Students:
A tentative statement of advanced standing credit is provided to each transfer student upon notification of admission to the College. Upon receipt of all missing credentials, a final statement of advanced standing credit is provided. This usually occurs during the student’s first semester of matriculation. Requests for re-evaluation of transfer credit must be made within the semester during which the final statement of advanced standing credit is received.

Consult with an Academic Adviser in the Office of Undergraduate Advising & Student Services, Tisch Hall, Suite 800.

Writing Proficiency Examination

All Stern students are required to take a writing proficiency examination, given by the Expository Writing Center, 269 Mercer Street, (212) 998-8860. The exam is offered twice yearly in December and May. First-years take the exam upon completion of Writing the Essay. Transfer students who have received credit for both Writing the Essay (V40.0100) and The Advanced College Essay: Business and Its Publics II (V40.0115) must take this examination at the end of their first semester in attendance at Stern.

Students for whom English is a second language benefit from taking additional credits in writing. The International Sequence, a series of three consecutive writing courses, is the Expository Writing Program’s equivalent requirement for students who test at the appropriate levels through NYU’s American Language Institute.

Business Proficiency Examinations

Transfer students who have taken introductory coursework in Finance, Information Systems, Marketing, or Statistics must take and pass proficiency examinations in these areas if they wish to use their courses in place of Stern requirements C15.0002, C20.0001, C55.0001 and C22.0001. Proficiency examinations are administered by the Office of Undergraduate Advising & Student Services. Call (212) 998-4020 to schedule an appointment.

Deadlines for taking proficiency examinations:
• Summer/Fall admits - last Friday in September

Tutoring

All NYU undergraduates who are taking College of Arts and Science courses are eligible for free tutoring in a variety of CAS departments. The Tutoring Program offers the following services: one-hour individual tutoring sessions or one-hour small group (3-4 students) tutoring sessions for various introductory course topics. Sign up in advance in Room 905 of the Main Building.

Stern provides a peer tutor program through which students are paired with fellow students for academic assistance. Contact your Academic Adviser to be matched with a peer tutor.

Assistance with writing is provided by the Expository Writing Center, 269 Mercer Street, (212) 998-8860.

THE OFFICE OF UNDERGRADUATE ADVISING AND STUDENT SERVICES

40 West 4th Street, Tisch Hall, Suite 800
New York, New York 10012-1118
Telephone: (212) 998-4020 • Fax: (212) 995-4000

Office Hours
Monday-Friday: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Appointments may be made in person or by telephone. Please call (212) 998-4020 to schedule an appointment by phone.

The Office of Undergraduate Advising and Student Services is the place to discuss issues affecting your life at NYU. Here you will find a team of knowledgeable Academic Advisers and a top-notch, service-oriented staff who are eager to help you adjust to the College. There will be an Academic Adviser dedicated solely to your class. Thus, you will develop a solid relationship with one Adviser during your tenure at Stern. Your Adviser will work with you to ensure that you are progressing through the Stern degree, while getting to know you personally along the way. Please read through the Guide to Advising and Student Services to learn more about the advising process and all the student programs available to you

Students are encouraged to meet with their Academic Adviser at least once a semester in advance of the registration period for the next term, or as often as needed.
After meeting with your Adviser to discuss transfer credit, course selection, and registration procedures, students will be ready to register for courses. There are a variety of materials to aid you in the registration process:

- The Stern School of Business Undergraduate Bulletin outlines degree requirements, policies, and procedures of the school and provides specific information and course descriptions for each major;
- The College of Arts and Science Bulletin provides course descriptions for courses in the liberal arts;
- The NYU Directory of Classes, arranged alphabetically by division and by department within each division, lists course offerings, days, and times for the current semester and contains the telephone registration worksheet and instructions.

The following is a key to abbreviations:

- V courses = courses whose number begins with “V” are offered by the College of Arts and Science (CAS)
- C courses = courses whose number begins with “C” are offered at the Stern School of Business
- LEC = lecture
- RCT or REC = recitation
- LAB = laboratory
- SEM = seminar (usually restricted to upperclassmen in their major)
- MW = class meets Monday and Wednesday
- TR = class meets Tuesday and Thursday
- MTWRF = class meets Monday through Friday (usually foreign language classes)

In planning your schedule, please note the following:

- Try to schedule your program evenly over four or five days. Refer to the final examination key in the Course Schedule Book to avoid having more than two final exams on one day.
- Remember that if any of your courses have two parts (i.e., LEC section and LAB section; LEC section and RCT section), you must register for both parts to receive credit for the course.
- Always make it a practice to read the course description of a class in the Bulletin before you register. In addition to learning what the course is about, you will find any prerequisites or restrictions for the course, and the semester in which it is offered.
- If you do not meet the prerequisites for courses for which you have registered, you may find yourself dropped from the course.

Albert

After choosing courses, you may use Albert at www.albert.nyu.edu to register for classes, check your registration status, and search for courses. In addition, you can access information about your grades, unofficial transcripts, degree programs, financial aid status, account balance, and address information.

TorchTone

You may also register through TorchTone, the telephone registration and information system at New York University. First, complete the telephone registration worksheet located in the front and back of the NYU Directory of Classes. Then, call TorchTone at (212) 995-4747 in order to register for courses. With this system you may also drop and add courses, find out your end of term grades, and check your Bursar account balance.

TorchTone Hours: Monday-Friday 8:00 a.m.-Midnight (with limited access between 9:00 and 10:00 p.m.) and Saturday Noon to 6:00 p.m.

After registering, be sure to check payment deadlines to avoid being dropped from courses for non-payment.
Computing@Stern

Guidelines

The computers in the Stern labs and the software available from those computers are for use by Stern students and students enrolled in Stern courses for course-related work purposes only. Therefore, for security and maintenance reasons, users of the Stern computer labs are not given access to do the following: install software or save files on the computer hard drives and/or change computer settings. All computers are available on a first come, first served basis. The Stern computer labs are staffed with part-time student personnel. The responsibilities of the part-time lab assistants include: assisting users with questions regarding software applications available in the computer labs, troubleshooting problems, maintaining the printers by keeping all paper trays full of paper, clearing printer paper jams and toners, and enforcing computer lab policies. Lab assistants provide support for the following software: Unix, WebMail, Windows NT, Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, Access, PowerPoint), Minitab for Windows, and html programming. Support for all other software is provided by the Professor, TA, or department that requested the software. Manuals and how-to guides are also available for most software packages. Food and drinks are not allowed in the computer labs. Users must provide their own 3.5" disk, zip disk, or save their work to their H: drive. Each computer lab has a lost and found box. The lab assistant on duty should be notified of any problems encountered in the computer labs.

Software

Stern students have access to a wide variety of software. The following is a list of software available in the Stern computer labs:
- Windows
- Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, Access, PowerPoint)
- Netscape Communicator
- WS_FTP
- UNIX
- Course-related applications
- Norton Anti-Virus

TurboZIP Express is available for free download at: http://www.pgcc.com/nyustern-reg.html.

Services

In addition to providing access to software packages, the Stern labs also provide users with a number of services to assist them with their course work. The following is a list of additional services available in the Stern labs:

H: drive — 50 MB of space on the Novell server accessible to the user only and only accessible from a computer on the Stern network
Mail server — 50 MB for storage of e-mail
Sales — 50 MB for storage of web files
X: drive — where professors store class-related data

Files and only accessible from a computer on the Stern network

E-mail Stations — throughout Tisch Hall and Kaufman Management Center (KMC)

Bloomberg stations — Tisch LC11-13-15 computer lab

Lexis-Nexis stations — accessible through Bobst Library

Access to and use of computing and networking resources at New York University (NYU) are privileges extended to members of the NYU community. Access to NYU computing and networking resources is limited to authorized users and is for approved purposes only. Such resources include computer hardware and software, computer-based files and data, the NYU-NET (the campus-wide data network), and all networks reached via NYU-NET, such as the Internet. Approved purposes are those consistent with both the broad instructional and research goals of the University and the user’s relationship with the University.

NYU provides centrally-funded computer-related services for instruction and research and, through NYU-NET, data network services for all organizations within the University. Other NYU-NET units—schools and departments—may also provide access to similar resources.

Each holder of a Stern account, or of any school or departmental account permitting network access, has the responsibility to use resources referred to above in an ethical and legal manner and agrees as follows as a condition for use of the account:

I understand that my access to NYU computing resources is for the sole purpose of facilitating my work as a University student, staff member, or faculty member.

I will respect the privacy and reasonable preferences of other users (both at NYU and elsewhere on all connected networks), including the privacy of their accounts and data.

I will respect the integrity and security of the systems and network, and will exercise care to maintain their security.

I understand that computer accounts are for sole use by the account owner, and I will not share my account with other individuals or use an account assigned to another individual.

I will take precautions to safeguard passwords and other privileged information to which I have been given access. Any passwords, verification codes, or electronic signature codes assigned to me are for my individual use only. I will regard them as personal identifiers of my computer use, similar to my signature on a document.

I understand that, in the course of my work, I may be given or otherwise obtain access to confidential or privileged information relating to this or other institutions, or to NYU students, employees, patients or other individuals or groups. I will respect the confidentiality of all information to which I have access, neither divulging confidential information without appropriate consent nor seeking to obtain access to confidential information to which I am not entitled.

I will not make unauthorized copies of software or perform unauthorized installations of software or reconfigurations of systems.

I understand that my use of computing resources accessed via NYU-NET - whether provided by organizations within or outside the University - may be subject to additional norms of behavior or regulations specific to the resource, which I agree to follow.

All persons accessing New York University computing resources will be held accountable for their conduct. As a matter of routine, use of NYU computer systems and NYU-NET is monitored and recorded by authorized University staff members in order to safeguard the security and smooth operation of these resources.

Any abuse or violation of the rules outlined here (or of other rules and practices governing the use of computer networks to which NYU is attached) will lead to account suspension and immediate review, with the possibility of account revocation, further disciplinary action in accordance with New York University rules and procedures, and referral to local, state, and federal law enforcement authorities.
Career Services

Whether you are beginning at Stern as a freshman or a transfer, the NYU Office of Career Services (OCS) is certainly a place you will want to visit during your first semester. The mission of the OCS is to assist students with making sound career decisions and exploring employment opportunities.

The Office of Career Services, together with its Student Employment and Internship Center, gives you a decisive edge in securing an academic year or summer internship, a Part-Time job on or off campus, and Full-Time employment after graduation.

The first step is to schedule an appointment with a career counselor to discuss your individual needs and goals. To schedule an appointment either visit or call the office. With a counselor you will work out a strategic and individualized Career Action Plan based on your specific needs. Students should also take advantage of the many programs and services listed below.

Special Programs

Career Fair: Education, Social Work and Health Job Fair, and Summer Job and Internship Fair. Representatives from hundreds of major organizations visit the NYU campus to discuss Full- and Part-Time career opportunities.

Mentor Network: This program helps you explore your career interests by linking you with experienced professionals. More than 400 mentors in a wide variety of fields from leading organizations are available.

Internship Program: Over 23,000 internships and Part-Time jobs (including summer employment opportunities) are listed annually. Specialized internship programs are available for African-American, Latino, and Asian-American students. The Student Employment and Internship Center assists students with securing internships and career-related Part-Time jobs.

Work Abroad Program: Having the opportunity to work overseas is an incredible experience. Some of the benefits include learning about another culture or language, building a global network of contacts, and gaining valuable international experience that can enhance one’s qualifications for competitive positions. Our Work Abroad Program provides you with information and resources about overseas opportunities, which include short-term paid and volunteer positions, internships, teaching jobs, or long-term employment. You can access our Web site at www.nyu.edu/careerservices for immediate information on available programs.

Services for International Students: International students may take advantage of the “Job Search for International Students” seminar; view the “Career Opportunities for International Students” bulletin board where job listings are posted; and review a computer database and some directories which list organizations interested in hiring international students.

Career Advantage Internship Program: This program, which is co-sponsored by the Office of Career Services (OCS) and the Office for African American, Latino & Asian American Student Services (OASIS), introduces sophomores and juniors to the many services provided by both these offices while preparing them for productive and successful internship experiences. This rigorous internship-training program enables students from diverse ethnic backgrounds to explore career options and develop career potential and marketable professional skills. Program highlights include seminar participation, panel discussions, resume, interviewing and job-hunting skills building, employer site visits, mentoring and individualized counseling. Candidates who complete the program requirements are recommended and referred to numerous paid summer internship positions.

NYU CareerNet: Students with a valid NYU ID and who are registered with OCS have 24-hour access daily to this online database (www.nyu.edu/careerservices) of internships, job opportunities, and Full-Time employment after graduation. Students can visit OCS facilities to search for specific types of jobs or to conduct general searches.

Fax Referral Service: Students entering their senior year and alumni can submit resumes to various career categories. Periodically, as job listings are received, they are matched with applicants’ resumes. These resumes are faxed to the employer who will make direct contact with the individual.

Seminars and Programs

Please check with the Office of Career Services for times and locations of all seminars and programs.

Planning Your Career: Learn to identify marketable skills, interests, and values that are important in determining the career direction that is best for you. Also, learn how to develop an individualized plan for effective career decision-making.

Resume & Cover Letter Writing: Learn how to write and construct an effective resume and cover letter that best reflect your qualifications. Topics include: format, content, and layout.

Interviewing Skills: Topics include: interview behavior, proper attire, and how to respond to difficult questions. Perfect your interviewing style through role plays. (Videotaped individual mock interviews are also available by meeting with a career counselor.)

How to Choose a Major & Career: Explore the connection between interests, majors, and career choice. Understand the importance of skill development.

Job Networking Skills: Learn how to develop your networking skills. Topics include: improving interpersonal communication, identifying potential contacts, informational interviewing, getting past “the screen,” and utilizing and maintaining your network.

Job Search and Internet Resources: Acquire new techniques for identifying job openings, making contacts, and implementing appropriate follow-up strategies. Use the Internet in all phases of the job search, including: finding actual job listings, researching organizations, and networking.

On-Campus Recruitment: Learn how to make the most out of the On-Campus Recruitment Program, important recruitment dates, numerous ways to obtain interviews, and what additional employment services are available.

Job Search Strategies for International Students: Discuss effective interviewing, networking, and job-hunting techniques. Examine cultural values of American employers.
expenses by assisting you with securing temporary freelance assignments as tutors, baby-sitters, bartenders, party helpers, and other temporary positions. The services are designed to help you gain valuable work experience while earning money that can help defray college expenses.

Since there are so many on- and off-campus jobs available, you can select from an array of demanding internships that provide great career-related work experience. Many positions are also less-pressured giving you a chance to make money, and still allow time to study and participate in other activities. For all career fields, the Office of Career Services has the services and resources to help you prepare for and obtain the job that is right for you.

The Federal Work Study Program (FWSP) provides opportunities for students to work on-campus or in community service projects in surrounding neighborhoods close to NYU.

All students who are interested in working on-campus, including those in the FWSP, must visit the Center in order to complete the appropriate registration forms.

Jobs at NYU also afford you the opportunity of working close to classes, the library, and other university facilities. Working on-campus is also a great way to get "connected" to NYU and to make new friends. Part-Time, summer job and internship openings are available through NYU CareerNet, an online computerized job listing service. After registering with the Office of Career Services, a valid student ID number provides access to hundreds of on-campus and off-campus listings each week. The center houses Macintosh/Dell computers and printers for you to prepare resumes, cover letters, and related job materials. A new feature added this year is the Electronic Resume Service where you can now upload your resume to your NYU CareerNet student record and send employers a copy via e-mail. In addition, OCS computers allow access to the World Wide Web. A bill-operated fax machine is available to allow students to apply for positions and get the "jump" on the competition. Directories and other career-related resources are also available.

NYU Work$ is a job referral program designed to help you defray the costs of tuition and living expenses by assisting you with securing temporary freelance assignments as tutors, baby-sitters, bartenders, party helpers, and other temporary positions.

The Part-Time Job and Internship Fair held in August and the Summer Job and Internship Fair held in March allow you to meet with employers with available positions.

Special Internship Resume Collections are another helpful resource for students looking for internships. This service enables employers to recruit students for internships and conduct the interviews at the OCS site. Announcements of these collections are advertised in NYU CareerNet and bulletin boards.

Overall, these are all great ways to find an internship, Part-Time or summer job, on- or off-campus. You have a variety of opportunities to choose from when seeking Part-Time jobs or internships. NYU’s New York City location provides access to thousands of Part-Time jobs and internships in the arts, business, government, law, health and the media. The Office of Career Services staff are available to assist students with all aspects of the job-search process.
On October 6, 1988, the faculty of the Leonard N. Stern School of Business approved the following Student Code of Conduct:

All students are expected to pursue the highest standards of academic excellence and integrity. Students must adhere to the norms of a serious intellectual community. A student’s responsibilities include the following:

1. A duty to respect the efforts of others by submitting his or her own work.
2. A duty to acknowledge properly the efforts of others.
3. A duty to respect the privacy of members of the community by avoiding all forms of intimidation, including sexual harassment.
4. A duty to safeguard and respect the property and rights of others.
5. A duty to preserve the quality of academic facilities.

Plagiarism

Students are required to submit their own work. Ideas, data, direct quotations, paraphrasing, or any other incorporation of the work of others must be clearly referenced. To do otherwise constitutes plagiarism. Examples of plagiarism include:

1. The use of other persons or services to prepare written work that is submitted as a student’s own.
2. The use of previously or concurrently submitted papers or segments thereof written by other students or by the student himself or herself.
3. Submission of the same or very similar papers in different sections of multiple section courses by collaborating students.

Examinations

All communication—written, oral, or otherwise—among students during examinations is forbidden except where approved by the instructor. The use of notes, books, other written materials, calculators, or other aids is forbidden except when approved by the instructor. Providing or receiving information about the content of an examination is forbidden except when approved by the instructor. The use of anyone else to take an examination for a student is forbidden. The above-mentioned items are intended to be illustrative of plagiarism and other forms of cheating. They are not all-inclusive.

In addition, students are expected to be familiar with and abide by the 11 “Statement of Policy on Student Conduct at New York University,” which sets down basic rules and covers issues of academic freedom, speaker invitations and demonstrations, and use of University facilities. “University Rules and Regulations” covers the policy on affirmative action, equal opportunity, use of alcohol, substance abuse, sexual harassment and compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (PL 93-380). A copy of the “Rules and Regulations” is in the University’s handbook, The Student’s Guide to NYU.

Student Activities

Stern students participate in a wide variety of activities outside the classroom. Many of these activities relate to the curriculum or professional interests, others are social, athletic, or service-oriented. Opportunities also exist for participation in student government and the development of college policy. On the right is a complete listing of Stern-specific clubs. On the following pages is a list of the hundreds of clubs and organizations that are part of the Office of Student Activities. We highly recommend your involvement in Stern and NYU clubs.

Stern Student Council
Upper Concourse of Tisch Hall, Room UC51
(212) 998-4032
Student Council is a representative organization of the students of the Stern College. The council seeks to improve the quality of life at Stern by serving as liaison between students, faculty, and administration.

Inter-Club Council (ICC)
Upper Concourse of Tisch Hall, Room UC51
(212) 998-4064
Inter-Club Council is the governing and coordinating body for all Stern clubs and organizations. It is composed of delegates from each class. The council seeks to improve the quality of life at Stern by serving as liaison between students, faculty, and administration.

Clubs of the College

There are a wide variety of clubs at Stern, many of which are tied to specific courses of study and others that address particular career interests or are part of national business fraternities. Club activities may include visits from prestigious guest speakers, films, trips, seminars, exhibits, and special events.

The Undergraduate College currently has the following clubs (see the Stern Bulletin for club descriptions):

BEFORE YOU CALL
Go for advisement as required by your school. New students will be asked to select a PIN the first time they call Torchtone. If you forget your PIN, you may call the University Registration Office at 212-998-4290.

Complete your registration worksheet.
- First, write in complete course information in the PLANNED SCHEDULE portion of the Worksheet.
- Include alternate courses in case you are not successful in getting your first choices.
- Using the Schedule of Classes, complete all Telephone Input information related to your course request.
- The 5-digit COURSE CALL NUMBERS required for telephone entry appear in bold next to each section of the course in the Schedule of Classes.

WHEN YOU ARE READY TO CALL
Be sure you have your Student ID and your confidential PIN available. (Never write your PIN where it can be identified with your Student ID or with your NYU record). Listen carefully to the instructions and responses given by TorchTone’s Voice Response System. Remember, you can listen to your schedule at any point during the registration process, and if you have problems you may press 0 to speak to a Registration Representative during office hours.

CLOSED COURSES:
You cannot enroll in a closed course on TORCHTONE. If you have written permission to enter a closed course, you may bring the permission form to the University Registration Office. You may also have the option of hearing alternate sections that fit into your schedule, and some closed courses will offer a waitlist. If you choose to listen to available sections of a closed or cancelled course, be ready to write down section numbers and meeting times as they are read.

WAITLISTING:
It is vitally important that you understand your responsibilities when placing your name on the WAITLIST of a closed course. YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR CHECKING ON YOUR STATUS IN A WAITLISTED CLASS BY CALLING TORCHTONE AND LISTENING TO YOUR SCHEDULE. IF YOU GAIN ENTRY TO A WAITLISTED CLASS, YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL CHARGES INCURRED WITH THE BURSAR, AND FOR ADJUSTING YOUR SCHEDULE TO STAY WITHIN THE RANGE OF POINTS AS APPROVED BY YOUR SCHOOL.
1. Enrollment in the waitlisted course may put you over the maximum credit load policy of your school.
2. You will be billed for any extra charges connected with enrollment in the waitlisted course.
3. Once you are on the Class List, you are responsible for attending or officially dropping the course.

AFTER YOU CALL
You may call back at anytime to listen to your schedule. This is especially important if you have placed your name on a WAITLIST. When you receive your Statement of Account from the Bursar, please read carefully all information concerning payment policies.
