

Bio Sketch

YORAM LANDSKRONER

Yoram Landskroner is Visiting Professor of Finance at the Stern School of Business, NYU

And the Albertson - Waltuch Professor of Business administration at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel. In his current position he teaches undergraduate and graduate finance courses, including Foundations of Finance and Investment Principles.

Professor Landskroner held visiting professorial positions at the University of Pennsylvania, University of California at Berkeley and UCLA.

His primary research interests include banking risks and performance, market discipline, bank regulation, foreign exchange options, convertible bonds, inflation expectations.

Professor Landskroner has published numerous articles in research journals including the Journal of Finance, the Journal of Banking and Finance, the Journal of Money Credit and Banking, the Journal of Futures Markets and the Journal of Financial Services Research. Recent publications include “Diversification and Performance in Banking: The Israeli Case” in the Journal of Financial Services Research; “Bank Management and Market Discipline” in the Journal of Economics and Business; and “The Valuation of Inflation Indexed and FX Convertible Bonds” in the Journal of Futures Markets.

His professional activities include being a member of the board of directors and chairman of investment committee of Kahal providence funds, Israel (US$2 Bil.); Advisor to the Bank of Israel, Banking Supervision Department; Member of the board of directors of the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange.

Professor Landskroner received his Bachelor degree (Economics) and M.B.A degrees from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and his Ph.D. in finance from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania